Vogeler Breaks Down While Making Plea To Fight for Freedom

VIENNA, Austria, April 30—(P)—Robert A. Vogeler and his family left Vienna by plane today for the United States.

The 39-year-old American businessman, released last Saturday after 17 months in a Communist jail in Hungary, was taken to the airport with his family by Ambassador Walter J. Donnelly, U. S. high commissioner in Austria.

Mr. and Mrs. Vogeler Reunited

A. M. EST). The first stop is Frankfurt, Germany. Vogeler mustered his shattered strength to deliver what he called "a message" to the American people yesterday before a television camera and microphone. He broke down once but insisted on continuing. "I am convinced," he said, "that my incident (arrest by Hungarian Communists as a spy and saboteur) is just one of a series of planned attacks on democracy."

Spring Weather Goes Berserk

Plane Wreck Blame Laid to Windstorm

(By The Associated Press)

The weather hit two extremes Sunday, pouring unseasonable warmth into a large section of the nation and perverting dousing other sections with snow, rain and hail.

Southern California rocked under a four-pronged assault of whipping winds laden with snow, rain and hail. Six deaths were counted due to the storm.

In the midwest, a howling wind—clocked up to 85 MPH—ripped the Fort Wayne, Ind., area and was blamed for the aircraft crash which took 11 lives Saturday evening.

The warmth—with temperatures hovering up to the mid-80's—spread over the eastern two-thirds of the nation Sunday. Many sections were doused by heavy rains.

Thundershowers from Iowa eastward to Pennsylvania threatened higher water along the flooding Mississippi. A flash flood, following a heavy rain, near Waverly, Iowa, engulfed an automobile, drowning two persons.

In the Muscatine, Iowa area, the churning Mississippi washed gaps in a levee, flooding 4,600 acres of farmland and putting 26 miles of Illinois Highway 92 under water.

Canton, Mo., was plagued by floodwater, with most of the business district inundated.

PLANE CRASHES
FORT WAYNE, Ind., April 30—(P)—Investigators today blamed high winds for the crash and explosion of a United Air Lines passenger plane.

Meanderings

By Wash Fayette

I guess since the world began, people have been trying to figure out a way to end wars . . . and they sometimes come up with some pretty clever ideas.

Take the other day, for example. A couple of guys were sitting in my favorite restaurant reading the paper . . . one of the men looked up from the front page and commented on the number of wrecks that had occurred around here.

The other gentleman looked up from the war news and agreed.

After a moment's hesitation, he added, "Seems as if they would take some of these fool drivers, give them a bright shiny fast car and ship them over to Korea. After they'd been on the road a short time the Reds would be more than happy to surrender."

And, I guess, even if they didn't surrender, those drivers would have most of them killed off in short order.

It's wildflower time once more! Wherever wildflowers usually grow, one may now find quite a number in bloom. Some of them are already out of bloom.

Right now, you would find the Virginia blue bell or cowslip, various kinds of violets, crowfoot, dogtooth violets, wildflowers or rue anemones, white trillium, sessile leaf trillium, spring beauty and several other varieties.

During the next few weeks nature's flower garden will be at its best, particularly in the hill areas, and it will not be long until the red bud and dogwood will be in bloom.

I noticed more than a week ago that June berry or sarvice berry trees were in bloom in the hills.

ANOTHER SEOUL BATTLE RAGING

First Triplets Born In Hospital Here Now in Incubator

The Fayette County Memorial Hospital's first triplets were reported Sunday, shortly after noon.

The three tiny babies were premature, as is said to be the case in most births of this kind, but the two little girls and a boy were still reported living Monday with probability that all would survive.

The parents are Mr. and Mrs. Wilford Ferguson, 1017 Willard Street, city. There are four other children in the family, three girls and one boy.

The infants were immediately placed in an electrically heated incubator and are being given special treatment. Their weights were 2 pounds 10 ounces, 2 pounds 11 ounces and 2 pounds 7.5 ounces. They were born a boy at 3:12, a girl at 3:18 and a girl at 3:23 P. M. Sunday.

According to information reported by local physicians Sunday, triplets only occur once in more than 7,000 cases. These are the first triplets reported in Fayette County in many years.

Train Smashes Tank At Crossing--3 Dead

BARBERTON, April 30—(P)—An Ohio National Guard tank lumbered into the path of a speeding Erie passenger train here yesterday and three of the tank's five-man crew were killed. Seven other persons were injured, one seriously.

Earl Lybarger, who lives near the crossing in this Akron suburb, saw two men leap from the Sherman tank before the six-car flyer struck.

Dead were Ronald Peterman, 19, Barberton; William Livingston, 22, Doylestown; and Dale Cox, 27, Akron. All were members of the ONG's 137th Medium Tank Battalion, 37th Infantry Division, which had been on maneuvers at nearby Portage Lakes.

One of the two guardsmen who jumped from the tank, Carl Nichols, 29, of Akron, was reported in fair condition today in Citizen's Hospital here. The other, Don Jamieson, 24, of Rittman, O., was unhurt.

The engineer of the train, J. F. Mason, 61, of Marion, said "I was coming around the curve and saw the tank pulling onto the tracks. But it was too late."

"It sounded like the whole end of Barberton was blowing up when the train hit the tank," said Lybarger who was watching from his front porch.

Cut in Armed Forces Is Urged by Sen. Taft

WASHINGTON, April 30—(P)—Senator Taft (R-Ohio) today urged a half-million man cut in projected American military forces and a $20,000,000,000 reduction in the mobilization budget, but called for "a more aggressive war in Asia."

The policy of neutralizing Chiang Kai-Shek's forces in Korea is "complete nonsense," Taft told the United States Chamber of Commerce.

The present fighting, he said, is a "stalemate war" which the American public will, in his view, not tolerate indefinitely.

He addressed the chamber's 39th annual meeting an hour after Secretary of State Acheson had expounded the government's foreign policy from the same platform.

Price of Beef Is Ordered Cut By OPS -- Oct. 1 Deadline Set

WASHINGTON, April 30—(P)—The government has issued a new four-bladed order designed to trim -- by Oct. 1 -- almost a dime a pound off the butcher shop price of beef.

The order begins working next month to clamp ceilings on the price of live cattle, and wholesale and retail prices of beef. This won't affect the consumer then.

But the announcement of the order, issued Saturday night, said retail prices will be cut from four to five cents a pound on Aug. 1, and again by the same amount on Oct. 1.

The Office of Price Stabilization (OPS) estimated the new regulations will save the American public about $700,000,000 a year.

Here are the four licks the price cleaver is due to deliver:

1. A 10 percent cut in prices which slaughterers may pay the farmer for cattle. This goes into effect for accounting periods beginning on or after May 20.

2. Dollar and cents ceilings are fixed for wholesalers and retailers. Wholesale ceilings go into effect May 9; retail ceilings May 14. Butcher shops must post retail ceiling price charts, by grade and cut, by June 4. The price ceilings vary by areas.

3. Cattle prices to slaughterers are to be reduced in additional four and one-half percent on Aug. 1 and by the same amount on Oct. 1.

4. On the same dates, retail beef price reductions of from four to five cents a pound will go into effect--for a total rollback of about nine cents a pound.

Theft Gang Is Sought After Man Arrested

Loot Valued at $2,000 Recovered; Elmer Rice Booked

Loot valued at $2,000 has been recovered as result of the recent arrest of a Sinking Springs resident, who is now in the Fayette County Jail awaiting grand jury action.

The man is Elmer (Ace) Rice, 40, who was picked up by Sheriff Hays last Tuesday night after they had assembled some farm property at the George Fogle farm on the Columbus Road, ready to haul it away in his truck.

Rice was placed in the county jail here, and quiet search instituted for others who were involved in a series of farm thefts in Fayette, Adams, Pike, Scioto and Pickaway counties.

Sheriff Hays alerted the sheriffs from the other counties. He visited Rice's home and found a great deal of loot, and sheriffs of the other counties involved joined Sheriff Hays in the investigation.

They assembled at Rice's home and went over the loot found there, which included some $700 worth of tools and much other property.

They also visited the home of Walter McClain, 50, at Mt. Joy (Scioto County) and found more than $1,000 worth of loot.

However, so far McClain has evaded arrest. A woman known as "Hazel" also disappeared, the officers said.

An affidavit charging Rice with breaking and entering at the Fogle farm, another charging breaking and entering the Willard Fayette County home in southern Fayette County, July 25 of last year a third charge of concealing stolen property were filed in Justice P. S. Ludwick's court, where Rice Saturday pleaded innocent to all charges.

Bond Fixed at $2,500

His bond was fixed at $2,500, which he was preparing to furnish Monday.

However, two additional charges have been placed against him in Highland County, and he will be held here for the sheriff of that county.

Sheriffs of the other counties in which Rice and his gang operated are preparing to file additional charges.

It seems that Rice and his companions have operated in the various counties for a year and many crimes have been traced to them through identification of loot found at the Rice and McClain homes.

Sheriff Hays recovered nearly $100 worth of tools stolen from Meredith and also some stolen from Morgan's Store in Good Hope, Aug. 19, 1950.

Rice claimed he had bought all of the property found on his premises and said he had purchased part of it from Gerald (Sleepy) Coe, who is now serving time in the Ohio Penitentiary.

MacArthur Hearing Is Not To Be Public

WASHINGTON, April 30—(P)—Senators who are going to question Gen. Douglas MacArthur on Far Eastern military and foreign policies decided today to hear him behind closed doors--unless MacArthur requests a public hearing.

Senator Sparkman (D-Ala.) came out of a closed meeting of the Senate armed services and foreign relations committee to tell reporters the vote to adopt this system was "substantial."

MacArthur is to appear before a joint meeting of the two committees on Thursday.

Their general inquiry into Far Eastern policy was touched off by President Truman's removal of the five-star general from his commands.

Some Republicans have been demanding public sessions, but Senator Russell (D-Ga.) agrees the committee could not "get all the facts" in such sessions. Russell, as chairman of the armed services committee, will preside at the hearings.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 30—(P)—A blown fuse in a telephone company repeater station at Bakerville, Calif., interrupted radio broadcasts by three national networks for 30 minutes last night.

$60,679,414,690 Budget For Defense Sent Congress

WASHINGTON, April 30—(P)—President Truman today sent Congress a $60,679,414,690 defense budget and said Russia's rulers have pushed the world "to the brink of a general war."

The huge requested appropriation is for the United States' own military costs and to help arm its allies.

The message broke down in more detail the military estimates including in Mr. Truman's general budget, sent to Congress in January for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

In a letter to House Speaker

Rayburn, accompanying today's estimates, Mr. Truman said:

"If the Soviet Union chooses to unleash a general war, the free world must be in a position to stop the attack and strike back decisively and at once at the seats of Soviet power."

"We believe that the best path to peace is through building combined defenses for the free world sufficiently powerful to insure disaster for the aggressors if they launch a new world war."

The over-all figure was broken down into these sub-totals: $1,421,839,700 to pay for various projects Congress already has authorized.

$56,179,414,690 of "new obligatory authority"--meaning for direct expenditures and for letting of contracts for future payment.

$4,500,000,000 to cover "needs" for a large military public works program to be recommended soon for authorization.

The new defense budget contains $29,500,000 for an atomic-powered submarine and $218,000,000 for a big aircraft carrier.

Defense department budget experts told reporters the nuclear powered submarine might be ready in the early summer of 1953.

The $29,500,000 tagged for the A--powered sub does not represent the whole cost. The experts said "another agency" (presumably the Atomic Energy Commission) would have another item for the project. This probably is the cost of the power plant.

By comparison, a conventional submarine costs around $9,000,000 complete.

Mr. Truman noted that the amount of actual spending proposed for the next 13 months was not changed from his January estimates. (Actual spending from the treasury may lag far behind appropriations because it takes several years to fill some military contracts.)

Mr. Truman said: "The revised estimate of expenditure for 1951 (the fiscal year ending next June 30) is 19.4 billion dollars, compared to 20 billion carried in the January budget. For fiscal year 1952, expenditures are estimated at 39.5 billion dollars compared to 40 billion carried in the January budget."

Hundreds Trapped In Mountains of California by Snow

FRESNO, Calif., April 30—(P)—Heavy weekend snows trapped hundreds of California trout fishermen in the mountains east of Fresno.

One report said 750 were marooned at Huntington Lake, 45 miles northeast of Fresno by 16 inches of snow. They were said to be in no danger.

Two hundred fishermen who had gone into the Sierra Nevada for the opening of the trout season were caught on a highway 55 miles east of here as they tried to come out Saturday night.

State Highway Patrolmen and Fresno County sheriff's officers worked all Saturday night to reach them. E. T. Scoyen, superintendent of Sequoia and Kings Canyon National Parks, called it "the biggest rescue operation in the history of the two parks."

He said 100 cars still were snow-bound in Kings Canyon Sunday night.

Those caught in the snow found refuge in resorts and summer cabins. Rescue crews following snow plows brought tow trucks, gasoline, blankets, doctor, nurses, and food.

Tax Collection Doubled

WASHINGTON, April 30—(P)—Income and excess profits tax collections in March more than doubled figures for March 1950, the Internal Revenue Bureau reported today.

The total last month was $4,316,357,000 against $2,110,833,000 in March of last year.

Murfreesboro in Gala Mood

Mrs. MacArthur Back In Her Old Home Town

MURFREESBORO, Tenn., April 30—(P)—Jean Faircloth MacArthur, pulling rank on her general-husband, brought her famed family home today for a triumphant return in which she held the commanding role.

They arrived at Stewart Air Force Base for a five-hour homecoming-wedding anniversary celebration and drove the 12 miles to Murfreesboro over roads lined with cheering throngs. The general's four-engine Constellation, the "Bataan," set down at 10:58 A. M. (CST).

A 16-man air force "salutation" party greeted the MacArthurs.

Then a civilian welcoming delegation took the party in hand for an all-stops--pulled blowout that had this picturesque little city in a tumult.

Gov. Gordon Browning greeted the family at the air base. Military honors over, in the brief, 10-minute air base ceremony, the party moved to the nearby town of Smyrna--population 1,780 -- where the general placed a wreath on a memorial to World War II dead.

Then came the entry into the festive home town itself. Lemonade stands dotted lawns of churches and private homes Jean MacArthur knew well before she left 14 years ago.

In today's flag-waving crowd the stars and bars of the confederacy were far more in evidence than the stars and stripes. Hawkers of the confederate banner did a landoffice business.

It was probably the biggest throng Murfreesboro -- population 13,000 -- has seen since 81,000 troops -- 44,000 Yanks and 37,000 Rebels -- fought the battle of Murfreesboro in the '60's.

It is a day of triumph for 52-year-old Mrs. MacArthur, who is returning home for the first time since she married in New York 14 years ago today, at 38.

And it is a day of triumph for flag-decked, frenzied Murfreesboro. This 13,000 population middle Tennessee city, usually quite and quaint, hopes to pitch its native daughter the anniversary party of a lifetime.

Spinet To Be Presented To President Truman

WASHINGTON, April 30—(P)—Piano playing Harry S. Truman is going to get a spinet, a specially designed one with a full keyboard.

The instrument, assembled jointly by the country's major piano manufacturers, will be presented to the president May 9 as a part of a ceremony opening nation and inter-national music week.

Lake Erie Fish Yield

COLUMBUS, April 30—(P)—Commercial fishermen took 20,224,859 pounds of fish from Lake Erie last year.

The Ohio Wildlife Division, reporting the catch, said today it may be worth "over three million dollars."

10 Meet Death In Bus Crash

WEIRTON, W. Va., April 30—(P)—A runaway bus pitched down a mile-long hill yesterday and crashed into a concrete wall, taking the lives of ten persons.

Just before the horrifying smashup, the driver, George Kraina, 35, cried to his church-bound passengers:

"Hang on everybody! We're going to crash!"

Those were his last words. He was dead when pulled from the twisted wreckage of the bus.

Some of the nine passengers were killed outright. Others died a short time afterward. Of the 63 persons aboard, 46 were injured. At least three, including a child, were reported in critical condition.

Police said there were no eyewitnesses and no indication of how fast the bus was running.

American Casualties

WASHINGTON, April 30—(P)—A defense department casualty list today identified 93 men of whom 18 are dead, 46 wounded, 18 missing and 11 injured in battle zone accidents.

Ruins of City To Be Defended By Allied Force

Red Losses Heavy But More Poured In To Replace Dead

By OLEN CLEMENTS

TOKYO, April 30—(P)—Allied artillery laid an explosive curtain of fire before Seoul today in the path of a gathering Red army intent on seizing the old South Korean capital as a May Day prize.

United Nations forces arrayed before the war-shattered city fired 45,709 rounds of artillery Sunday.

The booming echo of massed artillery implemented the announcement of Lt. Gen. James A. Van Fleet, Allied ground commander, that Seoul would be defended.

Chinese Communists poured down from the North for a mass assault. Airmen spotted 3,365 Red vehicles moving along the western front. Twenty thousand Communists were reported gathered as shock troops for the assault.

Only probing attacks were reported in the early hours Monday.

On Sunday Van Fleet announced his bold decision to defend Seoul. He plans a defense north of the city, not house-to-house street fighting.

General MacArthur and Lt. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway had made no attempt to hold the city against the Chinese offensive earlier in the year. They said it was of no military importance.

But Van Fleet said Seoul has prestige as Korea's historic capital. He described the Seoul area and the line of the Han River which flows south of the city as "vital and strategic."

The Reds have plenty of reserves, despite 70,000 casualties suffered in their seven-day-old offensive.

The Red radio at Pyongyang reported Sunday midnight Communists were only seven and a half miles from Seoul.

Heavily censored field reports indicated they were much closer Monday. Censors blue-penciled all mileages.

American tank patrols slashed through the Reds at night. One force rumbled 11 miles north of Seoul to Jijongbu.

Some antitank fire was encountered. One Chinese soldier attacked a tank with a box of TNT on the end of a long pole. It damaged the tank slightly. The Chinese was killed.

Chunchon, bastion of the central front, was abandoned Sunday noon. Chunchon is a highway hub 45 northeast of Seoul. Allies pulled out only after Reds flank the city.

U. S. marines plodded through Chunchon on their way south from the abandoned Hwachon Reservoir to Hongchon. Hongchon is 15 miles southeast of Chunchon.

Reason for the withdrawal of undefeated troops was illustrated by the remark of one officer 15 miles southwest of Chunchon, at the confluence of the Han and Pukhan Rivers. He said: "The rate of fire of our machineguns isn't high enough to destroy all of the Chinese facing us."

With the return of good weather after three bad flying days, warplanes were out in front of the lines in force cutting down the Reds.

West Virginian Held After Long Taxi Ride

CLEVELAND, April 30—(P)—Police questioned a West Virginian farmer today about a 180-mile taxi ride which ended at Lima, O., when the cab driver jumped out and claimed he was kidnapped.

No charges were placed against the 25-year-old farmer who said his name was William Rogers. He gave his address as Fayetteville, W. Va.

The driver--John A. Gilroy, 29--said he was kidnapped in his taxi at a bus station here and threatened with what he thought was a gun. Police said a top pistol was found.

When the cab stopped for gasoline last night at Lima, Gilroy yelled "this is a holdup."

Rogers ran but was caught by a station attendant, David Striff, 23, and Herbert Plaugher, a cab driver at Lima.

The Nation Today

By DAVID O. TYSON
(For James Marlow)

WASHINGTON, April 30—(AP)—Defense spokesman, not waiting for the draft bill to become law, have given congressional committees a flock of plans for future callups and releases of draftees and reservists.

The plans may be knocked into a cocked hat by get-backs in Korea. If not, here's what lies ahead for draftees and reservists, both in uniform and not yet called.

If the high army enlistment rate continues, draft calls will remain low. The June call will be 20,000 each, compared to 40,000 this month and in May and 80,000 in past months.

No more enlisted army reservists will be called individually, but several thousand more enlisted men and officers in small reserve and national guard units will be mobilized before June 30.

Also slated to report during May and June are 15,000 individual army reserve officers.

The release of army reservists will start next September with enlisted men called from inactive reserve returning first. All in this group will be back by the end of the year. The army has plans to release its other reservists but no details are out.

The air force will order up no more so-called volunteer reserve airmen, the ones who get no drill pay. But the remaining air force organized reserve -- 8,275 officers and 14,732 airmen -- will be in uniform by this June 30.

Also, 4,000 volunteer air force reserve officers will report in May and 4,553 in June.

After July 1, 1951, recalls of individual air reserve officers are planned for a year ahead at the rate of 1,000 a month. All will be voluntary "insofar as possible."

None of the five remaining air national guard wings will be called.

The air force expects 30 percent of its recalled reservists to re-enlist. Separations of non-drill-pay reserve airmen will see 194 going home in July, 6,472 in August, 8,576 in September, 8,306 in October and lesser numbers each month after that.

Reserve officers, the air force says, are in for the full 21 months allowed by law.

Naval reservists not yet called may get an idea of their status by the disclosure that only 120 minor ships will be activated in the year beginning July 1, 1951, compared to some 300 odd ships activated since the Korean outbreak. The 120 will include two escort carriers, four cruisers, 33 destroyers, 15 submarines and 61 mine craft, patrol craft and auxiliaries.

Naval reservists who joined organized units before last Oct. 15 will be taken first. Others in any category needed to man demobbed ships will get orders only when organized units are down to "the lowest practicable manning level."

Enlisted naval reservists will start getting out this July and be coming home in large numbers by October. About 77,000 will have packed their seabags for home by July 1952. No plans for the release of organized reservists or of USNR officers have come out.

The marine corps has ordered up its entire organized reserve with the exception of ten air squadrons which it does not plan to call. Nor does it plan to call any more from its volunteer reserve, though some are already on orders to report.

Anticipating an increase in enlistments, the marine corps will start releasing reservists this June when about 3,800 get out. None will be on duty involuntarily by July 1952.

Manners Demonstrated At 4-H Club Meeting

Members of the Four Hundred 4-H Club today had a better conception of the proper "manners when you are a guest in someone's home" after a demonstration given by Rodney Acton and Joe Wilson at the club's last meeting at the home of the advisor, Jo Ann Cockerill.

Plans for a food sale May 5 and a picnic at Johnson's Crossing for the next meeting also were discussed.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by her mother, Mrs. Marion Cockerill. The rest of the evening was spent watching television.

Increasing Use Of Gas Heating Serious Problem

Installation Limit For New Heaters Under Consideration

By KEN DAVIS
COLUMBUS, April 30—(AP)—The state Utilities Commission is having gas pains.

After a long public hearing, the Utilities Commissioners are up against the thankless job of deciding whether Ohioans may install new gas furnaces or conversion burners to heat their homes.

The commission realizes it can't win, too.

If it decides to freeze all new gas space-heating installations, it must brave the wrath of Ohio's contractors, heating contractors, the city of Cincinnati, the Cincinnati Gas and Electric Co. and every citizen who wants to install some type of gas heat.

If it decides not to freeze fuel gas, it must brave the wrath of the Ohio Fuel Gas Co., the city of Toledo, the village of Parma and old gas customers who fear they may run short of gas next winter.

One commissioner, said privately: "If we decide to freeze, next winter will be extremely mild and we'll catch the devil because we didn't allow more new gas furnaces. If we decide not to freeze, then next winter will be the coldest in 103 years and half the state will shiver to death."

Dual-Fuel Heater

Chairman Harold L. Mason is frank to admit that he doesn't know as of now what the commission should and will do. He is looking with some interest to the possibility of dual fuel installations, which allow one furnace to burn gas during warmer days and oil if gas gets low.

The cost of such a unit would be $200 to $300 a unit higher.

"Would that margin cut down home building, do you think?" he asks.

Commission Member Harry Miller, by the tenor of his questions during the public hearing, penalty is worried about freezing gas in Ohio when other states do not have freezes.

Ohio Fuel Gas Co., which supplies 66 Ohio counties, is a subsidiary of the Columbia Gas System. Columbia claims it is seeking freezes in the other states in which it operates -- New, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, District of Columbia, Maryland, Kentucky, Virginia.

But, it is increasing its service to Baltimore, to the District of Columbia, and is inaugurating service to New England. And, West Virginia, which produces natural gas, traditionally refuses to allow limits on service.

Many persons opposing a freeze privately feel that Columbia gas is asking freezes in established territories in order to have gas with which to open up new territories. Columbia Gas disclaims such intentions.

Government Regulations

Now the matter seems to be that fuel gas is a government regulated commodity which is held down to a price too low to be realistic. Natural gas may be made into gasoline. "Why should an oil company owning natural gas pipe

Board and Room

By Gene Ahern

it up here as natural gas and get into government regulation and red-tape for a low price?" asked one cynic. "They can make more money turning the gas into gasoline and they don't have to submit to utility controls."

In all the poker playing over the fuel gas shortage -- which meant heatless days for 1,100 families in Toledo last winter and acute shortages in the village of Parma--one Ohioan is sitting with a pat hand.

He's J. French Robinson, chairman of the board of East Ohio Gas Co. Robinson guessed some years ago that the present situation would arise. So he dedicated himself to the purchase of fuel gas anywhere he could get it.

This meant that in 1940 east Ohio had only 62,000 space-heating customers. But, in 1950, the same company had 268,000 such clients. And, east Ohio took care of them handily.

This illustrates the terrific increase in demand and at the same time shows the foresight of President Robinson.

East Ohio, you see, isn't asking for a freeze. It is willing to keep the market open at its present status. It has the gas to do so.

"If Robinson had guessed wrong," said one state official, "he would have been the biggest heel in the memory east Ohio stockholders, but instead, he's a hero."

Chairman Mason observed: "would it be right to tell east Ohio it can't take on new customers when it has the gas?"

Mason admitted he didn't have the answer.

Jaywalking Dog Jailed After Causing Crash

CLEVELAND, April 30—(AP)—Police tossed a jaywalking dog into the clink last night.

His carelessness, the irate cops said, caused a collision between a streetcar and a truck. The two vehicles jammed together and traffic was held up a half hour until they were separated.

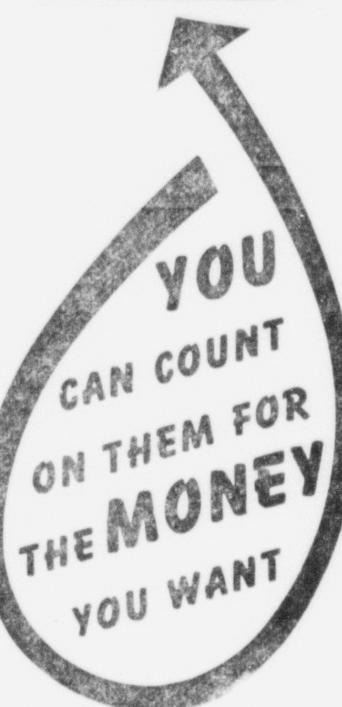

The dog's owner was notified he could pick up his pooch at the Lakewood Dog Pound.

LWV Members Attend Meeting In Columbus

The League of Women Voters of Fayette County was represented on Saturday at a state-wide meeting of the Citizens committee on the Ohio Constitution held at the Deshler-Wallick Hotel in Columbus. Mr. Charles P. Taft of Cincinnati is the chairman of that committee and he was the principal speaker of the day.

Representatives from Fayette County in attendance were members of the legislative committee of the League, Mrs. Paul S. Craig, chairman, and Mrs. John P. Case, and Mrs. Minnette Y. Fritts, president of the Washington C. H. League.

The morning session featured a panel discussion as to whether the Ohio Constitution should be rewritten or whether it should simply be altered and its defects remedied. Professor J. P. Schmidt of the Rural Sociology department of Ohio State University was the moderator. Three branches of government were represented in the discussion—the executive by Lauren A. Glosser, executive secretary of the Ohio program committee, the legislative by Gordon Renner, Cincinnati, speaker of the House of Representatives, and the judiciary by Joseph Stecher, Toledo, secretary of the American Bar Association.

There was a noon luncheon at which Mrs. W. J. Blanchard, president of the League of Women Voters of Ohio presided, and the program included Mr. Taft's address. "Ohio voters are on the spot. They must make up their minds how to vote intelligently because in the general election of 1952 the electorate of Ohio will vote on the question 'Shall there be a convention to revise, alter or amend the Constitution?'"

Lovely Afternoon Wedding Unites Couple In Marriage

A beautiful white arch decorated with white flowers sentinelled with tall baskets of gladioli and carnations, lighted with white tapers in seven branch candelabra, formed a lovely background in Grace Methodist Church on Sunday, April 29, when Miss Patricia Lee Mitchell became the bride of Mr. Harvey Lee Thomas.

Miss Mitchell is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd L. Mitchell, and Mr. Thomas is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Thomas of Findlay. Rev. Allan W. Caley officiated at the double ring ceremony as the hands of the clock approached three in the afternoon, which was preceded by a half hour of wedding music, presented by Miss Joanne Kellough, soloist, and Mr. Donald Riber, organist.

Miss Kellough sang "Always"—Berlin, "Because"—d'Hardelot, and "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life"—Victor Herbert. Mr. Riber's numbers included "Liebestraum"—Liszt, "Thine Alone," "When You're Away," "A Kiss in the Dark" all by Victor Herbert, and the traditional wedding marches.

Attendants for the bride were Miss Joanne Cull of Chicago Heights, Ill., as maid of honor, and Mrs. Jerry Frost of Bowling Green as matron of honor.

Mr. Don Thomas of Findlay, attended his brother as best man, and ushers were Mr. James Mitchell, brother of the bride, Mr. Ivan Frost and Mr. Jerry Frost.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was a picture of loveliness in her gown of candlelight satin, fashioned with a deep net yoke, outlined with a narrow band of satin, studded with pearls in small designs, and the small rolled collar featured the same trimming. The fitted bodice had long sleeves ending in points over the hands, and the full skirt fell to the floor in graceful folds. Her fingertip veil was held in place with a soft roll of satin with pearl trim, matching her gown, and she carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid, tied with cascaded white satin streamers.

The attendants wore strapless gowns fashioned identically of nylon net, and the short capes had small mandarin collars, wide crushed belts of satin and full skirts, and their satin head bands had clusters of sweet peas and carnations. Miss Cull was wearing pink and carried a colonial bouquet of deep pink carnations and sweet peas, and Mrs. Frost, in an aqua gown, had a colonial bouquet of pale pink carnations and sweet peas.

Mrs. Mitchell, mother of the bride, was wearing a light blue afternoon dress with pink accessories, and the bridegroom's mother wore a navy blue and white dress with navy accessories and both mothers had corsages of pink carnations.

A reception immediately after the ceremony was held at the home of the bride's parents, and the guests included members of the families and close friends.

Large vases of gladioli and carnations were on each side of the fireplace in the living room, and in the dining room a huge arrangement of gladioli decorated the buffet.

The bride's table was centered with a four tiered wedding cake, topped with the traditional bride and groom, and at the base was garlands of smilax.

Mrs. Raymond Kimmel presided over the punch bowl and other assistants were Mrs. Clarence Smith, both sisters of the groom, Miss Joyce Lough and Miss Mary Lou Reif.

Later when the new Mr. and Mrs. Thomas left on a wedding trip through the southern states, the bride had changed to an aqua suit with toast accessories, and her white orchid was pinned at her shoulder.

Upon their return they will reside at 816 Grand Avenue, Dayton. Mrs. Thomas is a graduate of Washington C. H. High School and attended Bowling Green State University, and until her marriage, she was a bookkeeper at Memorial Hospital.

The bridegroom, a graduate of Liberty High School, Findlay, and also of Bowling Green State University in the class of 1950, is associated with the Ohio Oil Company in Dayton.

Reds Lose One And Tie Other

Floundering Giants Lose 11th in Row

By JOE REICHLER
(By The Associated Press)
The Cincinnati Reds and the Pittsburgh Pirates went at each other for several hours yesterday but the Rhinelanders haven't anything to show for it.

The Bucs copped the opener 9-8 in 13 innings and the nightcap ended 1-1 in 10 innings, being halted by the Sunday curfew law.

In the opener the Reds got off to a fast start and had a 5-0 bulge in the third. The corsairs roared back in the fourth for four runs on five hits and swept into the lead in the fifth on successive homers by Dino Restelli and George Strickland. The Reds made it 6- all in the sixth on three singles and recaptured the lead in the next inning on Grady Hatton's single, Joe Adcock's triple and Ted Kluszewski's double.

Pittsburgh got one of the runs back in their half and the fearsome Ralph Kiner sent the game into overtime with a tremendous homer over the leftfield fence with two out in the ninth.

Successive doubles by Pete Castiglione and George Metkovich spoiled reliever Frank Smith's efforts in the 13th.

In the second tilt pinch-hitter Wally Westlake's ninth-inning homer tied the score and the game ended in a tie.

Giants Floundering

It no longer is a question of where the Giants will finish. Flabbergasted fans now are asking--will they finish?

Thunderstruck by the club's 11th consecutive defeat -- yes, the Giants lost again yesterday-xxxxx--is wondering what Leo Durocher is going to do next.

The end is not yet in sight. Already in the midst of the third worst losing streak in the club's history, the dispirited Giants must face the relentless Dodgers in Brooklyn again tonight.

The Brooks have won all five clashes between these arch interborough rivals. Two more losses would equal the Giants' longest losing streak. They dropped 13 straight in 1902 and 1944.

It was not until the sixth-inning yesterday the Dodgers broke up a 2-2 deadlock with a three-run uprising to pave the way for their 6-3 victory.

Larry Jansen was the loser. A bad case of "Homeritis" proved his downfall. The first of Duke Snider's two homers put the Dodgers in front, 1-0, in the fourth. After the Giants had gone ahead, 2-1, on a homer by Bobby Thompson, the Brooks drew even in the fifth and went ahead in the next round when Gil Hodges blasted his round tripper with Jackie Robinson aboard.

Snider's second solo blast came in the seventh off Dave Koslo.

Three-way Tie

The victory put the Brooks into a three-way tie for first place with Boston and St. Louis. The Braves divided a doubleheader with Philadelphia. They won the opener, 1-0 although held to two hits by Jocko Thompson. The Phils overcame a six-run first inning by Boston to win the second game, 10-9.

Harry Brecheen held the Cubs to six hits in Chicago to win his second game as the Cardinals pounded out a 6-3 triumph. Enos Slaughter drove in three St. Louis runs with a double and two singles.

Indians Lose Two

The lowly St. Louis Browns stunned the Cleveland Indians by sweeping both ends of their doubleheader in St. Louis, 6-3 and 13-11, to drop the Tribe into a first place tie with Washington.

The Senators backed into their share of the lead, accepting a 4-0 licking by the Yankees in New York. Cleveland and Washington each has won seven and lost three. The third place Yankees have won eight and lost four.

Ed Lopat pitched the shutout, his second in a row, and his third victory without a defeat.

Boston's Red Sox tallied four runs in the 13th to outlast the Athletics 12-8, in the first game of a scheduled twin bill in Philadel-

Race Horses Die in Fire at Beulah Park

COLUMBUS, April 30 —(AP)—Deputy sheriffs today questioned two stable hands about an early morning fire yesterday which killed 25 thoroughbred race horses and one stable pony at nearby Beulah Park race track.

They booked Robert Gambill and Henry Lee Grant, both 22, on open charges. Firemen indicated that a cigarette may have caused the fire. Three of the 25 horses were burned so severely they had to be destroyed.

Although the flash fire leveled a 35-stall barn it will not affect Beulah Park's scheduled opening next Saturday, said O. K. Keller, track superintendent.

The horses that died in the fire were valued at about $50,000. The barn and equipment were valued at about $11,000.

Ken Holcombe pitched a five-hitter as the Chicago White Sox shut out the Tigers in Detroit, 4-0. Aaron Robinson collected three hits and Nelson Fox drove in two runs for the winners. Hal Newhouser was the loser.

Moose Beaten By Jeff's Cubs

Baseball Season Opened by SWO

Jeffersonville's Cubs today looked like "the team to beat" in the Southwestern Ohio League as the baseball season got under way in Fayette County Sunday.

The Cubs swamped the Washington C. H. Moose team at Jeffersonville Sunday by a score of 14 to 3 in a game that had everything, including perfect weather.

It was not long before the ultimate outcome seemed certain. The Cubs started out by scoring a run in each of the first and second innings, while holding the Moose in complete check.

Only in the third frame did the Cubs fail to score.

The Moose got a run in the fifth and two in the sixth and that was all.

Outstanding was the hitting of Fred Flory who got five for five, including a triple, and the pitching of Bryden who chalked up 16 strikeouts, seven of them in a row. Tommy Smalley, head of the Moose, said of Bryden after the game: "He's one of the best... he's good enough to pitch for any team in Ohio."

ONE OF THE BRIGHT spots was the control of the hurlers on both teams. All told, only five bases on balls were issued. Play in the field was far above expectations for an opener by two teams that had not been able to get in much practice this spring because of the weather. The Moose made three miscues and the Cubs but one.

In the slugging department, the honors went to Gueth of the Cubs. Two of his three hits were lusty home runs. One of them went in to the records as one of the longest, ever hit at Jeffersonville.

Barney Coo, manager of the Cubs was jubilant. Smalley, headman of the Moose, appeared not in the least discouraged.

The Jeffersonville outfit was bolstered by several crack boys from Springfield.

New Holland Rassle Show Tuesday Night

Tuesday evening the members of the New Holland Lions Club are going to put on a real rassle card at the New Holland High School auditorium.

Although the main bout will feature two outstanding performers in the art of arm twisting, the most interest probably will center on the gals in the semi-final match.

The semi will find Elvira Snodgrass and Betty Hawkins tangling in a two fall of three bout. Elvira is a grandma, at though she may not look or act it.

Lone Eagle will take on Tony Sinatra in the main go of the evening, with Big Bill Miller and Irish Mike McGee opening the show with a one fall bout starting at 8:30 P. M.

BRANDENBURG

...the top members of the British Admiralty is over here to find out what makes the U. S. Navy's Seabees tick. The Seabees are the lads who are equally at home with a gun or a bulldozer. They can lay down an airfield, set up a hospital, construct a landing dock, or take a place in the firing line without changing their clothes. They're the fellows who contributed so much to our Pacific island-hopping... and they didn't wait till the shooting ceased before they started rearranging the geography. In some places they hit the beach before many of the Marines. And that's really getting out in front.

Going to the Circus nowadays is like getting married. It isn't the first costs, it's the upkeep that costs. I'd much rather pay the whole cost of a ticket including a seat to begin with, rather than buy it in broken doses. I'm either going to have to cut down on grand children or circuses one.

Believe it or not, my wife doesn't drive a car. But I'm graciously trying to teach her how to run the new power mower I bought for her. Sometimes I wonder if she appreciates all the things I do for her. Note: She might be interested in doing a little custom mowing.

SAFETY MESSAGE

Mr. and Mrs. Motorist, let me remind you that springtime means out-of-doors playtime for boys and girls. That means you must be prepared for youngsters darting out into the street from between parked cars, riding their bicycles, roller skating or doing the hundred-and-one things children do for fun. The National Safety Council says: Be on the lookout for youngsters whenever you are at the wheel of your car. Massachusetts just passed a law defining a bean blower as a "weapon." Not only that, but it uses up ammunition that is necessary to Boston's traditions. We have some traditions too. For instance... it's always been our policy to give you the very best auto repairs and service to keep your car SAFETY-FIT for driving. Dependable... that's the word for us. And we hope we'll be seeing you soon at R. BRANDENBURG MOTOR SALES, INC., 524 Clifton Ave. Phone: 2575.

KILL 'EM WITH KINDNESS By FRED DICKENSON

SYNOPSIS
Marrying playboy Ronnie Tompkins is mysteriously slain in his luxurious suite, despite the eagle eye of Detective Mack McGann, engaged to guard him against possible violent death. Ronnie's cherished friend, Frazier Farwell, a dice jockey, had been asleep in the house the night of the murder, but heard no sound of struggle. McGann warns Charley Jones, a beautiful maid who was to leave her home while the law's man-hunt is on, in a dark street the detective comes upon a sinister figure shadowing him—knocks the fellow down. But the "shadow" proves to be an old acquaintance, ace reporter, Dink Wexton, who'd covered all of Ronnie's romances for his newspaper. McGann learns from blonde Bombshell Irma Tompkins, ex-wife No. 4, that she'd been with Ronnie shortly before his demise.

CHAPTER ELEVEN
"ON APRIL 11, three years ago," McGann said, "I've been cramming." He poured two more cups of coffee. "Not that I don't appreciate company at breakfast but why come to me?"

"I thought maybe you'd tell me what to do. Solly's really no help in a thing like this and would probably blow his top if he knew I had gone to see Ronnie."

"Go to the police."

"I don't like that either."

"You'll have to. Simply tell them what you've told me. They'll take a statement but you shouldn't have any trouble. Only you won't get your pillow back for a long time, if ever. It's evidence."

"Let the doll sleep in a chair."

She relaxed with the smile of a person relieved to have found a course of action. "You're right, I guess. I'll try it."

McGann thought she'd leave immediately but she appeared still to be turning something over in her mind. At last she said diffidently, "Just in case you're interested, that Rogers dame could have had a grandstand seat for the fireworks."

"Jow's that?"

"She just got an apartment on the next street so her bedroom window is only across the court. I know Ronnie was sore about it. Said in a town as big as New York why did she have to park so close."

McGann suggested sentimental reasons, an attachment for the neighborhood where Kathleen Rogers had spent the nappy minutes of her married life. "Let's see," he mused, "weren't you her immediate predecessor?"

"I wouldn't be her anything."

"I mean Tompkins married her after—after you and he split?"

into the cell block instead of through the exit to the street.

County officials then phoned to have him held on a charge of failing to provide for minor children. Police reported he had been released. While a constable searched for him, the city jailer, making routine rounds in the cell block, found the man still wandering around looking for the way out.

The body of the brittle star, a deep sea dweller, varies in size from two inches down to a pinhead.

crinkled. "Come out from behind that hedge some day and let me see you," she said. "I may like the result."

McGann patted her shoulder. "From this day forward my window is always open. Climb up any time."

She went out, closing the door gently.

McGann was working shaving soap into his beard when the buzzer sounded. He swung the door open, wondering what Irma Nelson had forgotten, and Dink Wexton walked in.

The reporter leered pleasantly. "It must be wonderful to be a detective," he said. "You meet so many."

"I deduce that you saw Mrs. Tompkins—Irma?"

"In the flesh. Pink, that is."

"There's coffee on the stove," McGann said. He returned to the bathroom washbowl and was executing neat furrows with the safety razor when Wexton came in with a cup. He said, "All right, give."

McGann gave. "It's pretty obvious that she was lying all the way through," he concluded.

"You mean the tapestry bag? I don't remember seeing any in the study last night but then I wasn't looking for it."

"There wasn't any. She took a chance and guessed wrong. I'm still wondering why she came up at all unless she wanted to give the Rogers woman some trouble."

Wexton shrugged. He drank the lukewarm coffee and seemed lost in thought. Then he balanced the cup on the edge of the washbowl and took a folded sheet of copy paper from his inside coat pocket. "I've got news for you," he said. "They've traced the gun."

"Wonderful. Who to?"

"Ronnie Tompkins."

"Ugh!" McGann splashed water over his face. "I was afraid of that. Details?"

Dink Wexton had them. The murder weapon had been a Colt .32 automatic purchased by Ronnie Tompkins two years before. He had kept it in the upper right-hand drawer of the desk in his study and had a permit for it. The permit had been properly renewed and was good until December 31.

"One bullet had been fired and there were seven left in the clip," Wexton read from the notes.

and pushed a hat on his head. "I have been cordially invited to attend the inquest, or else," he said. "Ride along?"

"Absolutely. The desk says I'm to stick to you like yesterday's hand-aid. One more miss and I'm back to second-string copyboy."

"I'll tip you off with my dying breath."

In the lobby, McGann nodded pleasantly to a heavyset man whose plainclothes calling was not difficult to fathom. He could see why even Irma Nelson had been alerted and had chosen to detour. The plainclothesman returned the nod, followed them out and climbed into his car while they hailed a cab.

They were rolling downtown when Wexton pulled a copy of the morning Blade from his topcoat jacket and handed it over. "Read all about it," he said.

"Swell," McGann said. "Is Dick Tracy still trapped in that bubble bath?" He spread out the Page One banner, SEEK MYSTERY BLONDE IN TOMPKINS SLAYING. "What's this?"

"Second day lead."

"Hmm," McGann said. He scanned the story quickly. "A mysterious blonde is being sought throughout the city today by a score of detectives investigating the weird slaying of playboy Ronnie Tompkins. The much-married copper heir was found shot to death."

"It doesn't say who she is," McGann complained.

Wexton grinned. "It never does. In this business you always have to look for a mysterious blonde the day after a murder. You can't write a story saying the victim is still dead."

"Don't you ever look for a mysterious man?"

Wexton looked shocked. "Do you want to put us out of business?" McGann handed the newspaper back. "Bring me an extra the day you find her."

"Don't worry, we'll never do that. It would set journalism back fifty years." He turned to page two. "Here's something, though. They can't account for one cartridge."

Wexton proceeded to read a short item about the box of .32 calibre cartridges which O'Callahan's men had found in the drawer of Tompkins' desk. It was designed to hold fifty bullets but there were only 41 in the container when police discovered it.

"Forty-one in the box, seven in the gun and one in Comrade Tompkins," he added. "Grand total—forty-nine. Bullet, bullet, who's got the bullet?"

The cab spun past the soaring Empire State, began to squeal protestingly as the Fifth Avenue lights ahead flashed red. McGann studied the plaque on the cab partition which said that the vehicle was being driven by Joseph V. Romano No. 78620.

"That could be important," he said. "On the other hand, Tompkins might have fired a test bullet at the butler to see if the gun worked when he got it."

"I wouldn't have put it past him. Sometimes his humor was on the pixie side."
